Shareholders with the right to attend may cast their vote by attending the Meeting in person by remote means or by casting their vote before the Meeting by courier, mail or electronic means, provided that the identity of the person exercising their right to vote is duly guaranteed and, if applicable, the security of electronic communications is duly guaranteed, in accordance with this notice, the applicable legislation, and the Company's Bylaws and the Regulations of the General Meeting, and in the supplementary and implementing rules of the those Regulations as approved by the Board and posted on the Company's website (www.redeia.com).

Under Article 5 of the Company's Bylaws and in accordance with the Spanish Electricity Industry Act [Ley del Sector Eléctrico], no shareholder may exercise voting rights in excess of three percent; companies that carry out activities in the electricity sector and any individuals or legal entities that, directly or indirectly, participate in their capital with a share of more than five percent may not exercise voting rights in excess of one percent of the share capital. Pursuant to the Electricity Industry Act, the above limitations will not apply to the state-owned industrial holding company Sociedad Estatal de Participaciones Industriales (SEPI).

In accordance with section 524 of the Corporate Enterprises Act and Article 15 bis of the Company's Bylaws, any intermediary entities that are listed as shareholders in the register of members but that act on behalf of various ultimate beneficiaries may in any case split their votes and cast different votes to comply with different voting instructions, if they have received them. These intermediary entities may also delegate the vote to each of their ultimate beneficiaries or third parties designated by them, without restriction to the number of proxies granted.

SPECIAL RULES ON PROXIES AND REPORTING OF CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Shareholders entitled to attend may be represented at the General Meeting by any person, even if they are not a shareholder, in accordance with the applicable legislation, the Bylaws and the Regulations of the General Meeting, as well as the supplementary and implementing rules of the General Meeting Regulations approved for this purpose by the Board and published on the Company's website (www.redeia.com).

If instructions have been issued by the shareholder being represented, the proxy must vote in accordance with those instructions and will be obliged to keep the instructions for one year from the date of the Meeting.

Shareholders may grant and revoke proxies by courier, mail or electronic means, provided that the identity of the person granting or revoking the proxy and, if applicable, the security of the electronic communications are duly guaranteed in accordance with this notice and the applicable legislation, subject, as applicable, to Articles 15 and 17 bis of the Bylaws and Articles 10 and 15(9) of the Regulations of the General Meeting, regarding the casting of votes by the above means, insofar as it is not incompatible with the nature of the proxy granted.

Shareholders must notify their appointed representatives of the proxies granted to them. When the proxy is granted in favor of the Chair or the Secretary of the General Meeting, the Secretary or the Deputy Secretary of the Board or a Director, this communication will be deemed to have been made upon receipt by the Company of the relevant Attendance, Proxy and Remote Voting Card. To notify the Company of the granting of the proxy or its revocation, the same means provided in the preceding paragraph may be used.

In the event that, when the proxy is granted, the name of the person to whom the proxy is granted is not given, it will be understood that the proxy has been granted in favor of the Chair of the General Meeting or, in the absence thereof, in favor of the person chairing the General Meeting.

Proxies may represent more than one shareholder with no limit on the number of shareholders they may represent. When a proxy represents various shareholders, they may cast different votes according to the instructions received from each shareholder.

Pursuant to the Electricity Industry Act, no person may accumulate proxies on behalf of the same shareholder that would give them voting rights on behalf of that shareholder in excess of the limits established in Article 5 of the Company's Bylaws.

Pursuant to Article 523 of the Spanish Corporate Enterprises Act (Ley de Sociedades de Capital), prior to his appointment, the proxy must inform the shareholder in detail of any conflict of interest situation. If the conflict is subsequent to the appointment and the represented shareholder has not been notified of its possible existence, they must be informed immediately. In both cases, if new precise voting instructions are not received for each matter with a conflict of interest on which the proxy should vote on behalf of the shareholder, the proxy must abstain from voting.

To give precise voting instructions, the proxy section of the Attendance, Proxy and Remote Voting Card must be personalized, which is issued by the Company especially for this Meeting, and is available on the Company's website (www.redeia.com), or the card issued by the relevant depository entity, or from the voting, proxy and credential request space available on the corporate website (www.redeia.com). If the relevant card is not personalized for any of the items on the Agenda or, if the proxy is granted by electronic means, the instruction is not personalized through the electronic tool, it will be understood that the precise instruction given by the proxy-holder is to vote in favor of the proposed agreements formulated by the Board regarding matters included on the Agenda.

For the record, the Board considers that all the members of the Board are in a situation of conflict of interest in relation to voting on the proposed agreements included in (i) item 5 of the Agenda ("Examination and approval of the management carried out by the Board of Redeia Corporación, S. A. during 2024") and (ii) items 7.1 and 7.2 of the Agenda ("Approval of Redeia Corporación, S.A.'s Annual Director Remuneration Report for 2024" and "Approval of the remuneration for Redeia Corporación, S.A.'s Board of Directors in 2025", respectively). Likewise, the Board considers that in relation to items 6.1, 6.2, 6.3 and 6.4 of the Agenda ("Reappointment of José María Abad Hernández as an independent director", "Appointment of Natalia Fabra Portela as an independent director", "Appointment of Albert Castellanos Maduell as an independent director", and "Appointment of María Aránzazu González Laya as a nominee director"), the directors whose reappointment or appointment is proposed, with respect to their own reappointments or appointments.

Unless otherwise indicated by the shareholder granting the proxy, in which case it will be understood that the shareholder has instructed the proxy to abstain, in those cases in which the Chair of the General Meeting has been appointed as a proxy or the proxy is deemed to have been granted in the Chair in accordance with the above indications, the Chair is in a situation of conflict of interest in relation to voting on any proposed agreement and provided that no specific voting instructions have been issued, it will be understood that for those items, the shareholder has jointly and successively appointed as proxies, if any of them is, in turn, in a situation of conflict of interest, first the Secretary of the General Meeting and, last, the Deputy Secretary of the Board. The same rule will apply if any other member of the Board has been appointed as a proxy, provided that they are in a situation of conflict of interest in relation to the voting on any proposal and the shareholder has not issued precise voting instructions.

In connection with possible proposed agreements relating to matters not included on the Agenda, the proxy will extend to those proposals unless otherwise indicated by the shareholder granting the proxy, in which case it will be understood that the shareholder instructed the proxy to abstain. When the proxy extends to proposed agreements relating to matters not included on the Agenda, the precise instruction to the proxy will be to vote against the motion, unless otherwise indicated by the shareholder represented. The Board considers that any members of the Board affected, if applicable, in the cases contemplated in sections 526(1)(b) and (c) of the Corporate Enterprises Act that may arise outside the Agenda (dismissal or corporate action for liability) will be in a situation of conflict of interest.

The rules and information described above will also apply to the proxies granted through the Attendance, Proxy and Remote Voting Cards issued by the relevant depositary entities when they are not expressly included in those cards and are not contradictory to their provisions.

In addition, to be valid and effective, electronic proxies must be accepted by each proxy, for which purpose the proxy form received by the shareholder must be printed out and sent, once signed by the designated proxy as evidence of assent, to the Company's registered office (Paseo del Conde de los Gaitanes, 177, 28109 Alcobendas, Madrid) or sent to the following email address juntaaccionistas@redeia.com or accionistas@redeia.com by the proxy appointed in each case, and must be received by the Company before 12:00 midnight (CEST) on the day immediately before the day on which the General Meeting is scheduled to be held, that is, before 12:00 midnight (CEST) on June 29, 2025. Remote voting is not possible before the meeting for possible proposals not included on the Agenda. The rules described above will also apply to early votes cast through the Attendance, Proxy and Remote Voting Cards issued by the relevant depositary entities when they are not expressly included in those cards and are not contradictory to their provisions. As in the case of proxies, the purpose of establishing the deadlines for the receipt of early votes indicated below is to allow the Company to verify the shareholder status of the person granting the proxy and that the number of shares corresponding to the proxy is correct. The Company reserves the right to modify, suspend, cancel or restrict the mechanisms for remote proxies, voting and requesting information when technical or security reasons make it impossible to ensure the indicated guarantees and this circumstance is made public in due form and with sufficient notice by any means that the Company deems appropriate.

The Company may not be held liable for any harm and losses that shareholders may incur due to malfunctions, overloads, dropped lines, disconnections, technological incompatibilities, or any other identical or similar eventualities beyond the Company's control and that prevent or affect them from using the proxies, remote voting and information request mechanisms.

Once the information sent by shareholders (or their proxies) has been received, the Company will carry out the appropriate verifications, granting validity to the digitalized copies for these purposes provided that it has no reasonable doubts as to the identity of the subject, and will send the shareholder or proxy, through the email address communicated, the user credentials/key so that they may attend the General Meeting and vote by remote means.

The Company reserves the right to ask shareholders and their proxies for any additional means of identification as it deems necessary to guarantee their identity.

In addition, for the proxy to be registered, the proxy must have been previously granted by the shareholder, which must have been accepted by the proxy, all in accordance with the terms set forth in the "Proxy voting by remote means of communication before the Meeting" section of the notice of the meeting and in the rules published for this purpose on the Company's website (www.redeia.com).

To ensure the quality of the connection of the Remote Attendance Platform and to send shareholders (or their proxies) the relevant information to facilitate their registration, also available on the Company's website (www.redeia.com), all shareholders (or their proxies) who intend to attend the General Meeting remotely and, if applicable, to take part in it, are requested to send before 6:00 p.m. (CEST) on June 29, 2025 an email to the Shareholder Service Office (juntaaccionistas@redeia.com or accionistas@redeia.com). Apart from this prior notice, shareholders (or their proxies) must complete the registration process on the day of the General Meeting as described above. In addition, from the date of publication of this notice until the end of the General Meeting, shareholders (or their proxies) may contact the Shareholder Service Office, whose contact details appear in the "General Information" section of this notice, if they require assistance.

2. Intervention, information and proposal

Pursuant to the Corporate Enterprises Act, remote attendees who, in the exercise of their rights, intend to intervene in the Meeting and, if applicable, request information or clarifications regarding the items on the Agenda, the information accessible to the public that the Company has provided to the National Securities Market Commission since the last General Meeting was held (June 4, 2024) or regarding the auditor's report, or make the proposals permitted by Law, may assert these rights in real time in writing or by audio or video, by following the steps below:

- (a) In writing: shareholders and proxies who wish to assert the above rights in writing must formulate their intervention, question or proposal in writing and send it to the Company through the Remote Attendance Platform as from their registration as a remote assistant on the day of the Meeting in accordance with section 1 above to when the Chair of the Meeting indicates at the Meeting that the floor is closed for speeches.

Any interventions made by the remote attendees in writing will be available to all attendees on the Remote Attendance Platform for consultation by any of them, at any time, from when the General Meeting is called to order.

- (b) By audio or video: shareholders and proxies who wish to assert the above rights by audio or video must request to intervene by any of these means through the Remote Attendance Platform, following the instructions provided in the Remote Attendance Platform.

To intervene in the General Meeting by audio or video, the attendee must use a device with an audio and, if applicable, video system (microphone and, if applicable, webcam) and allow the device to access those media.

Any shareholders and proxies attending the General Meeting by remote means who need assistance may contact the Shareholder Service Office during the course of the meeting, by calling 900 100 182 or, if applicable, the additional telephone numbers provided by the Company for this purpose and posted on its website (www.redeia.com), or through the email address juntaaccionistas@redeia.com or accionistas@redeia.com.

Shareholders (or their proxies) who intend to exercise their rights of intervention, information or proposal must express this intention when they register in the Remote Attendance Platform.

Shareholders and proxies who would like their intervention to appear literally in the minutes of the meeting must expressly state so in the interventions section of the Remote Attendance Platform or in their intervention.

Any requests for information or clarifications made by the shareholders or their proxies during the General Meeting will be answered verbally during the meeting or in writing within seven days following the end of the meeting.

3. Voting

Shareholders or their duly registered proxies attending the General Meeting remotely may cast their vote on the proposals relating to the items included on the Agenda through the relevant voting form enabled on the Remote Attendance Platform of the corporate website and in accordance with the operating rules provided there, from the time of their connection as a remote attendee in accordance with section 1 above.

Likewise, with respect to the proposed agreements on those matters that, by law, are not included on the Agenda and may be dealt with at the meeting, those attending the meeting by remote means may cast their votes from the moment those proposals are read out by the Secretary of the General Meeting and voting is enabled in the Remote Attendance Platform.

Pursuant to the Regulations of the General Meeting, votes in favor of all the proposals of the Board relating to matters included on the Agenda will be deemed to be those of all the shares present or represented, with the exception of those of the shares corresponding to the attendees who selected to vote against, cast blank votes or abstain in the Remote Attendance Platform. In turn, votes against all proposed agreements relating to matters not included on the Agenda or alternative proposals to those of the Board will be deemed to be those of all shares present or represented, with the exception of those of the shares of the attendees who selected to vote against, cast blank votes or abstain in the Remote Attendance Platform. Making the relevant selection in the Remote Attendance Platform will be considered for all purposes as the communication to the Notary of the sense of the vote or abstention in the terms provided in each case.

In relation to alternative proposals, it will be understood that a vote in favor of a proposed agreement will be held to be a vote against any alternative proposals that are incompatible with it.

The electronic voting process for all proposals submitted to the General Meeting will end when the Secretary of the General Meeting has finished reading the summaries of the proposals relating to the items included on the Agenda.

4. Withdrawal

Attendees who wish to notify the Notary their express withdrawal from the Meeting must do so by sending an electronic notice to the Notary through the "Communications to the Notary" section of the Remote Attendance Platform. Once they leave the meeting, any subsequent actions they make will be considered as not having been carried out.

5. Other matters

The Company reserves the right to adopt appropriate measures in relation to mechanisms for remote attendance at the Meeting when necessary or dictated by technical or security reasons. The Company may not be held liable for any damage that may be caused to Shareholders arising from malfunctions, overloads, faulty lines, connection problems, technological incompatibilities or any other cases of the same or similar nature that are beyond the Company's control and prevent or affect the use of the remote attendance mechanisms for the Meeting (whether they refer to registration, intervention, voting, notifying the notary or any other action related to attendance at the Meeting), or due to the occasional lack of availability of its website, without prejudice to adopting the measures required in each situation, including the possible temporary suspension or postponement of the General Meeting if necessary to ensure the shareholders and their representatives may fully exercise their rights.

In all matters not expressly provided for in this notice of meeting, remote attendance at the General Meeting will be subject to the rules on the Company's website (www.redeia.com).

ISSUES COMMON TO ALL MEANS OF PARTICIPATION

1. Rules of Priority

The basic rules of priority between proxy and remote voting and the attendance of shareholders or their proxies at the General Meeting are as follows:

1. Personal attendance at the General Meeting by remote means will have the effect of revoking the proxy granted and the vote previously cast by any means of remote communication.
2. The personal remote attendance of the shareholder's proxy, whether the proxy has been granted on paper or by electronic means, will revoke the previous vote made by any remote procedure.
3. If a shareholder validly grants remote proxies in paper format and by electronic means, the proxy in paper format will prevail, unless the Company has proof of the date on which both proxies were granted, in which case the latest proxy will prevail.
4. Likewise, for any shareholders who cast their vote by email and at the same time on paper, the vote on paper will prevail, unless the Company has proof of the date on which both forms of voting were sent, in which case the latest vote will prevail.

2. Legal entities

Shareholders and proxy holders who are legal entities and non-residents in Spain must consult with the Company on how to use or manage the procedure for remote proxies, voting and request for information with the due guarantees (verification and authentication of proxies), the procedure for proxies, voting and requesting information remotely, obtaining user/key credentials and the use of the Remote Attendance Platform and its peculiarities, through the Shareholder Service Office (located at the Company's registered office, Paseo Conde de los Gaitanes nº 177, La Moraleja, 28109, Alcobendas, Madrid), from Monday to Friday, excluding holidays, from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

(CEST), at the shareholder service telephone number 900 100 182, from Monday to Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. (CEST) and, if applicable, at the telephone numbers that the Company provides for this purpose and posts on its website (www.redeia.com), or through the email address juntaaccionistas@redeia.com or accionistas@redeia.com.

It is recommended for shareholders and proxies who are legal entities and who wish to obtain user/key credentials to, as appropriate, grant their proxy or cast their vote in advance by electronic means or attend the General Meeting through the Remote Attendance Platform accessible on the corporate website (www.redeia.com), to carry out the processes described in this notice without delay. This will allow them to have the necessary user/key credentials in sufficient time to complete the relevant processes within the established deadlines.

3. Obtaining and validity of electronic certificates

The valid electronic certificate included in the national identity document or the qualified electronic user certificate issued by the Spanish National Mint (FNMT-CERES), in accordance with the applicable legislation in force, in its capacity as a Qualified Certification Service Provider, must be, if applicable, obtained by shareholders (or their proxies), at no charge to the Company, and must in any case be in force at the time of granting the proxy or casting the previous vote by electronic means or at the time of attending the General Meeting remotely.

4. Responsibility for the safekeeping of access credentials, electronic certificates and signature creation devices

It will be the sole responsibility of shareholders (or their proxies) to safeguard their access credentials and electronic certificates, as well as their signature creation data and their signature creation device. The Company is not liable for the misuse, custody or conservation of these elements.

5. Modification of shareholding

In the event of a change in the shareholding of the shares grouped under the same card, the holder of the card may carry out a new action, which will be the action that is taken into consideration. If no new action is taken, the action taken by the shareholder before the change in the shareholding will be extended to the updated number of shares.
